

Specialists in Organisational and Personal Assessment

Where we focus our experience:

Jasper Associates provide business and personal assessment solution services to small medium and large organisations. Based in the UK where our business operates from we specialise in the Health and Care, Education, Food and Drink - Leisure and Tourism and the Oil Gas and Power Industries. We provide an online solution for assessment of organizations and people with an impressive line up of associates working in some of the most prestigious organisations and universities in the UK, and at the cutting edge of business social theory and organisational behavioural change or research.

The sectors we represent are some of the biggest industries and global organisations.

Our service values focus on developing your business, improving its performance and keeping your organisation competitive whether that is in successful or developing economies. We try to help our clients redefine their performance through business assessment process improvements, new science technology, innovation and the latest training, assessment and development techniques - business psychology and thinking.

Our partners also have excellent reputations and are highly regarded for their individual specialisations and consulting assignments with a pragmatic approach, combined their fields of expertise provide a powerful tool for the improvement of your business operations.

We provide a highly focused, responsive, individually tailored, productive and unparalleled level of service, which enables greater attention to detail and understanding of your organisation's unique requirements. Our services fit seamlessly into other processes within your organisation, personal and organisational development, recruitment, talent management strategies and more.

To discuss EQ associated business and personal assessment tools available through Jasper Associates, please contact Jan Childs at MDP: <http://www.mdplimited.co.uk/Contact.htm>